

LEGAL STUDIES Class XI-XII (2019-20)

(Code No. 074)

Rationale

The Latin maxim ignorantia juris neminem excusat, in plain, which reads as 'ignorance of law is not an excuse'. This is one of the age old principles followed under the Roman Law and even in our own Common Law. If every person of discretion is to know what law is, an effort to teach law outside the remit of a professional law school may have significant social benefits.

Law is a subject which has been traditionally taught in Universities for almost eight centuries. Learning law outside the settings of a professional law school has a number of perceived benefits. Some familiarity with law enhances one's understanding of public affairs and an awareness of one's entitlements and duties as a citizen. It may also be helpful in eliminating some of the mistaken notions about law and some of the inveterate prejudices about law, lawyers and the legal system as such. Another advantage is that an understanding of law can undoubtedly encourage talented students to pursue a career in law – an objective which is laudable in its own right.

The pitfalls of learning law outside the settings of a professional school are rooted in two key assumptions:

- (1) law is too vast and complicated to be taught in a non-professional setting;
- (2) the lack of professional trainers and experienced teachers could lead to incorrect appreciation and understanding of law. If an understanding of law is mis-formed or ill-formed as some academicians think, it may require greater efforts to unlearn whatever was learnt earlier. Both these criticisms have attracted detailed scrutiny, but at least a few countries have introduced law at the High School level.

The experience of countries that have introduced law has been by and large optimistic. The Central Board of Secondary Education is introducing Legal Studies at the Class XI level. The proposal is to introduce one module in Class XI and a second module in Class XII.

Presentation of all facts of the case	- All of the relevant facts are presented clearly in a chronological, organized, logical and interesting sequence -The facts are supported with relevant evidence related to the case	- Most of the crucial facts have been stated sequentially as per the happening of the case	- Some facts are stated but not in a sequential manner	-Only a few unrelated and irrelevant facts have been stated
Statement of Legal problem and prediction about outcome	-Legal problem has been precisely defined and unambiguously stated -Analysis of the legal problem has been done thoroughly and predicts clear outcome with logical reasoning	-Legal problem has been nearly correctly stated - Analysis of the legal problem predicts a near clear outcome	- Legal problem has been vaguely conceived -Analysis of the Legal problem does not predict a clear outcome	-Legal problem has not been identified clearly, -No analysis of the legal problem has been done to predict the outcome

Establishing correlation in facts	- All of the crucial facts are well correlated to each other and presented in a logically persuasive manner	- Most of the crucial facts have been stated and are correlated to each other and presented in a logically persuasive manner	- Some of the stated facts are correlated to each other and presented in a logical manner	-The stated facts lack correlation and are not presented in a logically persuasive manner
legal analysis and reasoning	- Legal analysis is done by organizing evidence to accentuate differences, or similarities related to case. Use superior inductive and deductive reasoning abilities and present analogy.	- Legal analysis is done by organizing some evidences but organization is less than effective. Shows less Logical reasoning (inductive –deductive) than required.	- Legal analysis is done by organizing some evidences but organization is not effective. Logical reasoning (inductive – deductive) is missing.	- List some evidences but not able to organize it. Legal analysis is incoherent
Identification of decidendi and obiter dicta	Ratio decidendi and Obiter dicta has been identified in a crystal clear terms	Ratio decidendi and Obiter dicta has been little less clearly identified	Ratio decidendi and Obiter dicta has been vaguely identified	-Ratio decidendi and Obiter dicta has not been identified
Reflections on the Case	Corroborate alternative arguments with research and innovation. Question existing beliefs. Show inconsistencies in existing body of evidence to arrive at result. Analyse pros and cons of existing decision viz a viz alternative solutions.	Identify connection between existing laws and their application in this case. Consider alternative arguments to affect the present outcome.	Analyse from a personal perspective why a particular action/decision has happened.	repeats only what has happened in the case
